

What would you like to reclaim?

1. I would like to reclaim people's feelings and soul.
2. I think we should be reclaiming public spaces.
3. My youth, ha, ha, ha...
4. We should reclaim social justice, and should economic justice but I think most importantly is to reclaim the planet.
5. Beauty (?).
6. I'd reclaim education for education's sake.
7. ...? I guess I would reclaim that
8. I would reclaim our sanity¹, reclaim our consciousness, reclaim our compation, because at the moment we've been made to live a life which is not natural at all.
9. Economic equality.
10. It's deep, ha!
11. We need to, eh, reclaim togetherness.
12. I think we shoul reclaim power. Take power back from the bankers and give it back to the people.
13. There should be a society where the people produce that wealth and were responsible for all that entire planet play of goods and services also owning, so if was to reclaim anything it would be the entire society. (?)
14. OK, what I'd like to reclaim is justice and acces to justice, that's it.
15. I would reclaim, eh, the sense of society which is to work together and not individually, and that's the most important thing I think. From that, everything will come, I think.

Related good news: "Squatters reopen Friern Barnet library after council closes service: <http://gu.com/p/3ac3q>", and then: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=E-kDo7tVgAA>.

1 Cordura, sensatesa