Subaquatic phantom or real fish?

Stingrays are fish and live in tropical waters. Their eyes are on top of their bodies and the mouth is underneath. The stingray in the picture was captured by a fisherman. A boy is touching a stingray mouth with his hand. Some stingrays have powerful teeth to eat oysters and mussels. Stingrays use camouflage and are really difficult to see when they are in the sand. Be careful! They have a poisonous sting,... but they do not attack humans. They only use the sting in self-defence.
