

Charlie Brown

Marcie.- I've got the eggs, Sir. Just like you asked.

Peppermint Patty.- Great! Come on in, Marcie. But quit calling me Sir. I'll show you how we colour eggs. You've got the eggs ready. Now mix up all the colours.

Marcie.- Erm... Sir, how we colour the eggs after we fry them?

Pp Patty.- Oh, oh.....arrrrrrg!

---

Pp Patty.- Aaaaaaaaaarrrrrrrrrrg!

---

Pp Patty.- Now, look it. These eggs are not to be fried nor they're not to be roasted, toasted or waffled.

Marcie.- Yes, sir.

Pp Patty.- These eggs gotta be boiled. You boil them and then I'll show you how to paint them.

Marcie.- Yes, sir. I'll boil them, sir then you'll paint them.

Pp Patty.- When the water comes to a boil, let me know. Put the eggs in now.

Marcie.- OK sir. In they go.

Marcie.- OK sir. All the eggs are in.

Pp Patty.- Good Marcie. Let them boil a good long time and then I'll show you how to paint them.

Marcie.- They look done sir. Want to look at them?

Pp Patty.- OK Marcie. Let me look. That's funny. It smells like soup. Oh, Marcie! You make egg soup. Oh!

---

Marcie.- What do we do with Easter eggs now that we have them, sir?

Pp Patty.- We eat them. We put a little salt on them and we eat them.

Marcie.- Taste terrible, sir.